The first issue of our new monthly guide to streaming, TV Insider, hits stands on February 21! The cover (right) features Kiefer Sutherland, who has appeared as the lead image on TV Guide Magazine covers 15 times. He's a familiar face to our readers, going back to the days of the hit actioner 24, which premiered on Fox in 2001. Kiefer has been a go-to guy, playing TV heroes ever since, including the president of the United States on Designated Survivor, a 2016–19 drama that debuted on ABC and then moved to Netflix. His latest, Rabbit Hole, is a nonstop-action spy thriller created for streaming. Kiefer sat down with us for a one-on-one interview about the new Paramount+ show and told us why we should check it out. (I've seen a few episodes. It's really good!) That's just the cover story. What else is in the March issue of TV Insider? The revealing story behind the intense survivor drama Yellowjackets, spring's most anticipated return. And an inside look with Supernatural's Castiel, Misha Collins, at his new show, Gotham Knights. (He also shared surprising info about how the cast from Supernatural still stays in touch!)

In all, we've reported on more than 120 streaming shows and movies in TV Insider so you'll "Know What to Stream Next." Turn to page 17 to subscribe!

CINDY WILLIAMS

(1947–2023)

SHE WAS THE girl next door—if your neighbor happened to have the soul of a screwball comedian. Cindy Williams, who died January 25 at 75 after a brief illness, first gained attention as Ron (then "Ronny") Howard's devoted girlfriend in 1973's American Graffiti, and also appeared in director Francis Ford Coppola's The Conversation a year later.

Williams had to be talked into putting her movie career on hold to take the part of Shirley Feeney, the starry-eyed 1950s Milwaukee brewery worker and roomie of brash Laverne DeFazio (Penny Marshall). They made their debut on Happy Days as double dates of Fonzie (Henry Winkler) and Richie (Howard) but soon got their own spinoff in 1976, with Laverne & Shirley soaring to the top of the ratings

Audiences delighted in their slapstick antics, a throwback to the days of Lucy and Ethel on I Love Lucy, albeit with a feminist edge as blue-collar working girls making it on their own.

"People are into nostalgia in a big way, and they also seem to like the idea that the two girls are best friends. It's a unique relationship on TV," Williams told TV GUIDE MAGAZINE in 1976.

Theirs wasn't the happiest of sets, with Williams fighting for funnier material for her more idealistic character on a show ruled by Penny's family, including her brother, executive producer Garry Marshall.

She left the show in its final season, in a contract dispute after becoming pregnant, filing a $20 million lawsuit. It was never the same without her and the series was canceled one year later in 1983.

After its second season, Williams said the show's message was "to have fun. Dare to do silly things. Let people enjoy themselves." Thanks for the fun times, Cindy. —Matt Roush

America's top TV critic Matt Roush answers your burning questions

The second season of Prime Video's Hunters was so good that we watched Season 1 again followed by a second viewing of Season 2! The Season 2 episode "The Home" was one of the best episodes of any series we've ever seen. Any word on a third season? Al Pacino should get an Emmy for this. What a story! —John C., Denver, N.C.

MATT ROUSH: The second season, which arrived after a nearly three-year wait, was billed as the final, so I wouldn't expect the hunt to continue. But it was fun while it lasted, right?

Agyeman

NBC's New Amsterdam never really explained Helen's (Freema Agyeman) departure. They teased a resolution, but ultimately, not even a bad reason was given. This seems like a disservice to fans. Am I missing something? —Adam D.

MATT ROUSH: When the actress decided not to return for the final season, the show's writers punted with a weak and vague "Dear Max" letter after she left him at the altar. Then, when Helen reappeared late in the season and she reached out to Max, he chose not to reopen the wound and give her a chance to explain further. It did feel like a loose end, but on the positive side, it allowed him to move on with the wonderful Dr. Wilder (Sandra Mae Frank, who was my favorite thing about latter-year Amsterdam).

I fell in love with Shantaram on Apple TV+. Any chance another streaming service or platform will pick it up? —Mark D.

MATT ROUSH: Hard to imagine who would invest in a new chapter of this densely plotted adaptation of the epic novel, set in '80s Bombay. Streamers don't typically pick up a rival's cast-offs, and the real issue here is that if Apple was going to devote 12 episodes to this sprawling story, it could have been done effectively as a self-contained limited series and should never have ended on a violent cliffhanger. What a mess.

The Roush Review

Not Dead Yet

Wednesdays, 9:30/8:30c, ABC

SO MUCH FOR the long-rumored death of the broadcast network comedy. ABC's brilliant Abbott Elementary keeps reaping awards, and CBS's Ghosts is a bona fide hit.

Taking a cue from the latter, the spirited sitcom Not Dead Yet looks to the afterlife to boost the self-esteem of Nell Serrano (Jane the Virgin's effervescent Gina Rodriguez), a 37-year-old hot mess returning to journalism after a five-year love affair went bust. Heartbroken and humbled, Nell accepts a job at her old paper and is put on the obituary beat, which turns out to be anything but deadly when her subjects begin appearing to her. (My reaction: Why couldn't this have happened to me when I wrote about Angela Lansbury's passing?)

These colorful ghosts are the life of the party, providing morals of self-acceptance from beyond. They enliven a madcap farce that doubles as a workplace comedy set in, of all things, a bustling local newsroom. (I got a kick when a snotty social-influencer ghost played by Brittany Snow quipped, "Is this like a factory of some kind?")

Rodriguez in the Dead zone

Conversing with dead people no one else can see has been a TV trope reaching back to the '50s (Topper), but when talents like Martin Mull (a bohemian jingle writer) and Mo Collins (an overbearing inspirational speaker) are saying boo, the gimmick can still feel fresh.

It helps that Nell's life is populated by flesh-and-blood scene-stealers, including New Girl's Hannah Simone as her less neurotic bestie, Superstore's Lauren Ash (almost unrecognizable as her wealthy and mercurial boss) and Rick Glassman (from Prime Video's short-lived As We See It) as her neurodiverse roomie, who's unamused by Nell's zany life.

An inspired rom-com twist to the formula in the fourth and fifth episodes (airing February 22 and March 1) convinced me that Not Dead Yet deserves a long life. ★★★★☆

O'Brien and Schilling

Dear Edward

Fridays, Apple TV+

FANS OF TEAR-JERKERS who've felt a void since This Is Us ended last year may flock to this emotional gut-punch of a series from master manipulator Jason Katims (Friday Night Lights, Parenthood). The setup is devastating: a plane crash from which only 12-year-old Edward (the soulful Colin O'Brien) survived.

But even gluttons for sentimental punishment may grow weary over 10 episodes of survivor guilt, manifested by a "grief group" where loved ones left behind assess their shattered lives. These include Edward's aunt Lacey (the excellent Taylor Schilling), who takes in the sensitive "miracle boy," laboring to provide some normalcy.

The show's theme, voiced by another group member, is "Sometimes our path chooses us." And so it goes as mourners forge new relationships, exorcise regrets and consider paths not taken. The subplots are uneven: some compelling—Anna Uzele is especially good as a politician's idealistic granddaughter—some underdeveloped, and even a pro like Connie Britton can't make sympathetic the contrived woes of a pampered wife learning too late her husband's secrets. ★★½☆☆

SEASON PREMIERE
Thursday, Feb. 9, Netflix

THE STALKER BECOMES the stalkee in the fourth season of the addictive psychological thriller, which puts us right back in the head of TV's most literate voyeur, Joe Goldberg (Penn Badgley, whose voiceover commentary is so insistent it could invade your dreams). Exiled to London after the bloody events of last season, and adopting a new name and identity as a professor, Joe learns his secret isn't safe when a mystery killer lures him into a web of deceit and nonstop texting.

"I'm in a whodunit, the lowest form of literature," fumes Joe. I'd beg to differ, but his new clique of "aristo-brats" is so toxic, it's hard to care when anyone gets knocked off. Wisely, Netflix is breaking the season into halves, with a midpoint reveal setting up a cool new cat-and-mouse game. Still, I can't say I'm counting the days until the March 9 return. ★★★☆☆

Hawaii Just Got Hotter

The temperature is rising on Magnum P.I. after a sizzling finale kiss. The forecast for the sexy detectives: undercover romance!

BY JIM HALTERMAN

AFTER A KAYAKING workout in the sparkling blue waters off Oahu, Thomas Magnum (Jay Hernandez) steps into a steamy shower. The private detective isn't alone for long. "Hey," he says. "Hey yourself," purrs his business partner Juliet Higgins (Perdita Weeks) before a passionate embrace. Diehard fans know this is typically when someone wakes from a dream or snaps out of a fantasy. Wrong. After four seasons of flirting and longing looks, Magnum and Higgy—"Miggy"—are a couple! "The show starts off with a bang," says Weeks, laughing along with Hernandez as they sit down with TV Guide Magazine.

It's also no dream that we're still talking about the show. The reboot of Tom Selleck's 1980–88 action hit was canceled last year after four successful seasons on CBS. "The ratings were good, the audience was loyal. It was quite a surprise," says executive producer Eric Guggenheim, who fought to keep Magnum alive. Eventually, NBC picked it up for 20 episodes—10 this season and 10 presumably for 2023–24. "When [the renewal] finally happened," he says, "it was like, 'Wow, we cheated death!' "

The aloha shirt is always in style on the island, and Thomas Magnum has long been a fan. The PIs (Hernandez and Weeks) go full Baywatch for a case in Episode 2

Moving into Round 5, "this is probably our most emotional season," Guggenheim says, "and the show is a little sexier." We see both elements play out as Magnum and Higgins face uncharted terrain in their relationship. First off, they approach dating with different mindsets. "Higgins is more cerebral and wants to think it through," Hernandez says. (Hard to find space to ruminate considering they're already living together—sort of—at Robin's Nest, the estate of never-seen novelist Robin Masters, where Magnum provides security.) And per Weeks, "Magnum is more heart-led. He's the more natural romantic. Higgins is like a steel trap."

> "Magnum is more heart-led. He's the more natural romantic. Higgins is like a steel trap"
>
> —Perdita Weeks

Those opposing styles have served them well in their crime-solving partnership. In the first of two back-to-back episodes on premiere night, they seek a mystery passenger from a fatal car accident, and in the second, they go undercover as lifeguards. Throughout, "We still bicker constantly," promises Hernandez.

At least that won't give them away when they decide to conceal their romance from their ohana (their close circle who are like family). "All their friends are somewhat invested," Weeks says. "There is a large amount of pressure to make [this relationship] work." But in Episode 2, Magnum agrees to let his pal, La Mariana bar owner and new dad Orville "Rick" Wright (Zachary Knighton), temporarily stay with him in the Robin's Nest guest cottage. No lounging around in bathrobes for the lovebirds!

It's an unlikely pair that spills the beans: the estate's sharp-toothed Doberman duo, Zeus and Apollo, loyal to Higgins but typically seen chasing Magnum around the grounds. "There is a funny moment where Kumu [Amy Hill, as the estate's cultural curator] walks in and suddenly the dogs are OK with Magnum," says Weeks. "She can't understand why they're not ripping his throat out."

Running parallel to this love story is a season-long tale of life-threatening drama tied to the unexpected reappearance of Capt. Buck Greene (James Remar). Last seen in Season 2, he was once Navy SEAL Magnum's commanding officer. "It's a huge storyline that ties into something that happened when the guys were in the service," Guggenheim hints. Magnum and U.S. Marine pals Rick and Theodore "T.C." Calvin (Stephen Hill) were all together in Afghanistan, even POWs at one point.

As for the rest of the gang, stoic Gordon Katsumoto (Tim Kang), booted from the Honolulu Police Department after helping Magnum with an unsanctioned jailbreak, hits a rough patch. "He still has alimony and child support and a mortgage," teases Guggenheim. New to HPD is cocky detective Chris Childs (Michael Rady), who, Guggenheim says, will be "a bit of a foil for Magnum and Higgins," much like Katsumoto was in the earlier seasons. Childs also refers to Magnum as Higgins' "boyfriend." He may be new, but he's sharp! ■

GREY'S ANATOMY: MEREDITH'S LAST SHIFT

We pick our five most memorable moments from Ellen Pompeo's epic run BY ILEANE RUDOLPH

◀ SEASON 19, EPISODE 7 Whip-smart surgical star Meredith Grey (Ellen Pompeo) exits in "I'll Follow the Sun" with a buh-bye to Seattle's Grey Sloan Memorial Hospital that's so sweet, tears will roll nationwide (ours for sure!). She's off to Boston, a job with less stress and QT with her kids.

▲ SEASON 12, EPISODE 9 Dr. Richard Webber (James Pickens Jr.) trilled the Temptations' "My Girl," guiding a temporarily mute Meredith's wheelchair in "The Sound of Silence." Her mom's true love, Richard was always Mer's protector and supporter. Swoon.

Shepherd M.D.

▲ SEASON 1, EPISODE 1 In the premiere episode, "A Hard Day's Night," Meredith, a new surgical intern, runs into her hunky bed partner from the previous night, Dr. Derek Shepherd (Patrick Dempsey). Horrified, she ignores the neurosurgery chief. We wanted more!

▶ SEASON 3, EPISODE 14 In "Wishin' and Hopin'," Meredith informs her temporarily lucid mom, legendary surgeon Ellis Grey (Kate Burton), of her Alzheimer's diagnosis. Ellis cruelly calls her daughter "ordinary." Mer takes it, but later boldly stands up for herself. As a shrink would suggest.

◀ SEASON 2, EPISODE 1 Meredith's friendship with guarded cohort Cristina Yang (Sandra Oh) was both hard-won and true. In the classic "Raindrops Keep Falling on My Head," Cristina says to Mer, "You're my person." The now-iconic phrase ranks up there with the pair's "dance it out" scenes.

Pulling out all the stops: Squerciati goes to epic lengths to save a victim in her latest case

Chicago P.D. celebrates its 200th episode with a high-speed adventure

BY ILEANE RUDOLPH

MARINA SQUERCIATI WANTS the procedural's milestone 200th episode to leave viewers breathless—and the actress, who plays Intelligence Unit Officer Kim Burgess, promises it will. "We do it all!" she teases, referring to the many action-packed moments, which include a stressful pursuit through moving train cars and an underwater rescue. "It's kind of like Planes, Trains and Automobiles. We've left no stone unturned."

The high-octane episode revs up early on when Burgess and Officer Adam Ruzek (Patrick John Flueger), her police partner and former fiancé, see a young man shot on the street and lose both shooter and victim in the crowd while entering the subway. After searching the packed train for clues, Ruzek braves the tunnels to continue the hunt. "Paddy and I got to walk through actual CTA [Chicago Transit Authority] tunnels with real live trains whizzing past us," reveals Squerciati, adding that everyone involved had to take safety lessons about crossing the tracks. "It was exhilarating; it added to the tension of the moment."

They eventually discover that the crime involves a troubled family with a maltreated child, whom Burgess must save in a nail-biting underwater moment. To film the scene, Squerciati spent 12 hours in a tank of water while dressed in full uniform.

"This episode is like a battering ram—it breaks Burgess," says Squerciati. The harrowing case and claustrophobic attacks evoke flashbacks from the character's vicious, near-fatal kidnapping several seasons ago. "She hasn't dealt with her unresolved issues, and because of [this crime's] brutality and being trapped—and the similarity between what happened to her and what happens to the victim—it throws her into a scary spiral."

Flueger

The beleaguered cop finally decides to take a big step forward and share her pain with a therapist, something that could signal good news for "Burzek" fans who are rooting for the pair's future. "Ruzek has been there with an outstretched hand for a long time, and it's Kim's turn to show up," Squerciati says. "She wants to take control of her life and not carry this pain and feel trapped inside herself." Does that mean there's hope for the on-again, off-again lovebirds? "I think fans won't be pleased, from what I can gather on Twitter, until we kiss," she muses with a laugh. "But in the sense that it's movement toward a greater good, yes."

Though Burgess has been shot, abducted or sexually assaulted at various moments throughout the series—"I think the characters are stronger than we are!"—Squerciati emerged relatively unscathed this time. Her only battle scar came from a subway door that closed on her shoulder and caused it to pop out of its socket. Still, the shoot wasn't all grueling—the cast marked this landmark episode with a cake decorated with cast portraits. "We were all teasing, 'Who's going to eat someone's face?' " Squerciati says, before reflecting on the series' longevity.

"Actors don't think anything can last," she notes. "So many shows don't make it, but [überproducer] Dick Wolf seems to have the secret sauce. So I never should have doubted!" ■

Bill Russell: Legend

AVAILABLE NOW

ORIGINAL DOCUSERIES Not long after Boston Celtics great Bill Russell died on July 31, 2022, the NBA retired his No. 6 jersey league-wide—the only player in history so honored. It was a fitting tribute to the man who not only redefined the concept of team play in basketball during his 1956–69 career—leading to the Celtics winning 11 championships in 13 seasons (two when he was both a player and head coach)—but who was also an integral figure in changing the view of race in the U.S. Both are well covered in Netflix's two-part documentary.

"He understood, on one level, the role he had to play [on the court], but he also understood that he had a responsibility off the court as an African American man," says Sam Pollard, who directed the series. "Those two things give you a sense of perspective on Bill Russell, the man. He didn't want to just be known as a basketball player. That's what makes him so special."

Contemporary players interviewed—Steph Curry, Jayson Tatum and Chris Paul among them—admire Russell's commitment to excellence, especially his battles with rival center Wilt Chamberlain (above left, with Russell), as well as the challenges he faced entering the league as the country still grappled with segregation. "Curry knows what it means to be a contemporary basketball player," says Pollard. "But he also understands whose shoulders he stands on." —Robert Edelstein

Operation Finale

MONDAY, FEB. 20

NEWLY AVAILABLE MOVIE He went by Ricardo Klement, a Mercedes-Benz factory foreman in Argentina. But Israel's secret-intelligence agency, Mossad, knew better. In 1960, after a long search, agents, using the ruse of a broken-down car, apprehended Klement and took him to a safe house for what they hoped would be quick expedition to Israel. Klement was, in fact, Adolf Eichmann, the Hitler lieutenant and architect of the Holocaust.

His capture and eventual trial get tense treatment in Operation Finale, with Ben Kingsley (left) playing Eichmann as proud and icy to the end. Trying to understand the man within the monster—and keep from exacting personal vengeance—is Peter Malkin (Oscar Isaac). The scene where Malkin speaks to Eichmann while shaving him is worth the wait.

The Consultant

FRIDAY, FEB. 24

ORIGINAL DRAMA Just when you thought it was safe to go back to the office, meet what may be TV's true boss from hell in this darkly comic thriller. He's steel-eyed Regus Patoff (played with gusto by two-time Oscar winner Christoph Waltz, above), who walks into financially strapped Los Angeles gaming company CompWare and, after a shocking death, suddenly calls all the shots. Lining up the staff to sniff them each because he senses someone doesn't smell right? Calling a worker into the office...at 3am? That's not in any employee handbook we know of.

Trying to uncover the potentially villainous ways Patoff came into power drives ambitious CompWare employees Elaine (Brittany O'Grady) and Craig (Nat Wolff). However, knowing he can break or make a career leaves the pair with a devil of a dilemma over how much to compromise and play along.

"They're both enticed and repulsed at the same time. That's what Patoff does to you," explains executive producer Tony Basgallop. "He has to save the company, but is he allowed to say these things?" Still, there may be a method to Patoff's madness; it's possible he could end up having a positive effect on CompWare. Basgallop says, "The horrible thing about him is that you can't survive without him, but you hate yourself working with him." —Jim Halterman

ORIGINAL DOCUSERIES Few stars can portray nervous caution quite like Emmy winner Eugene Levy (Schitt's Creek), and that's the fun in watching him visit intriguing destinations in this eight-episode docuseries. From taking ice baths in the Arctic to driving a dogsled across a frozen lake, Levy forces himself outside his comfort zone, and even discovers some joys. "Finland was definitely the most fun," he says. "South Africa was the best surprise.... I felt an attachment to the landscape after I got there."

But danger lurked around most corners. On a night hike, "I confronted an eyelash pit viper around a tree branch. Death in 45 minutes if bitten. And the bullet ant I almost tripped over—24 hours of pain if bitten. Too many giant spiders my flashlight picked up. Wouldn't want this much fun again." —Zhanna Slor

Star Trek: Picard

"Those were the days," Picard (Patrick Stewart) reminisces with compatriot William Riker (Jonathan Frakes, left, with Stewart) as they are joined by Next Generation cohorts (including Michael Dorn's Worf, right) battling intergalactic terrorists. "All the history we've had, it was easy to fall back into," says Frakes of the return. Season 3 premieres Thursday, Feb. 16

Animal Control

SERIES PREMIERE

Thursday, Feb. 16, 9/8c, Fox

HOW'S THIS FOR a creature comfort? Joel McHale is back leading another pack of lovable oddballs in an unlikely setting, only this time, instead of a community college, they're protecting the community. McHale stars in this sharp new comedy as Frank Shaw, one of the long-suffering officers working for a Seattle animal-control department. He tells us more.

I think your fans are going to love seeing you in another ensemble comedy surrounded by quirky characters, like your partner Fred "Shred" Taylor (Michael Rowland), a super cheery ex–pro snowboarder, and your awkward boss, Emily Price (Vella Lovell, Mr. Mayor). Well, aren't we all quirky? [Laughs] No, this is definitely a weird group. I was drawn to it because the characters are so darn well-drawn. And it's something we don't really see, very similar to how we never saw community colleges on TV.

Have you ever called animal control yourself? Honest truth, I have never called animal control. But I have captured two baby rattlesnakes—one in my old house and one at my neighbor's across the street.

Do you attract snakes? Because you tangle with one in the second episode. I like snakes, yeah. My cousin grew up in Calabasas [California]. We would go in the desert and catch snakes. So all fear of snakes left. They're totally docile if they're not hungry. [Laughs]

Were there a lot of real animals on set? There was a real kangaroo. [And if you've seen promo photos,] we were obviously with the ostriches, right? I did learn about ostriches. Teenage ostriches are like golden retrievers. They're very happy and really interested and they'll just walk up to you and be like, Hi, what are you doing?

Clearly you're an animal person. I love them. My wife was like, "This is a perfect job for you." And just look at my Instagram. We have three dogs.

Speaking of Instagram, you posted about the show with a caption that your Community pal Ken Jeong had "better come on the show or else." I haven't locked him in yet because this happened so fast. If we get a second season, Ken better do it. He is busier than I am and I'm an OCD workaholic. I still can't believe to this day that someone pays me to act or perform. [Laughs] It's ridiculous. —Damian Holbrook

History's Greatest of All Time With Peyton Manning

10/9c, History

Who doesn't love a Top 10 list? And topping the list of those lists has to be this weekly blast of G.O.A.T. roundups, hosted and exec produced by Pro Football Hall of Famer Peyton Manning (below). Last week's premiere ranked stadiums, an eclectic group that included both the House That Ruth Built and the Roman Colosseum. Tonight: sports cars!

Manning says he grew up in a "golden age" for those sexy rides, rattling off examples: Lamborghini Countach, Ferrari Testarossa, Porsche 911. "Unfortunately, I didn't have any of those," he admits—although two make the G.O.A.T. list, based on stats, innovation and legacy. "My favorite car of all time was my very first car," Manning continues, "a hand-me-down from my brother Cooper, a Jeep Wagoneer."

History's Greatest relies on roughly 100 experts for each episode's rankings as it scrutinizes candy (February 20), inventions (February 27), daredevils (March 6) and more. Does Manning profess any specialized knowledge? "As an athlete, I know a few of the stadiums we debated pretty well," he says. "And I know candy because, well...I was once a kid and I have kids. I've been around a lot of candy. But the fun of this show is that I'm not really an expert on any of these topics." Which is not to say he doesn't have opinions: Gummy bears are the G.O.A.T., and that's that. —April P. Bernard

Summer House

SEASON PREMIERE

9/8c, Bravo

How to sum up the reality show's Season 7 stay at the Montauk beach house? "Mayhem," long-timer Paige says. Luke, Andrea and Alex have moved out, making room for a trio of newbies, and Danielle and Ciara's catfight—meow!—promises new waves of drama.

Retro Pick

We're mad about them! Cupid's arrow found a perfect target with wisecracking newlywed New Yorkers Jamie and Paul Buchman (Helen Hunt and Paul Reiser, above) in this '90s sitcom. Amid an all-day marathon (starting at 9am/8c), these six Valentine's-themed episodes find the couple getting locked in their bathroom and gobbling antacids to stave off hunger, reflecting on their almost-bungled engagement while ice skating at Rockefeller Center and worrying about their future after their friends' union falls apart. A 1995 two-parter flashes back to their harried nuptial prep. "Listen, both of my sisters have had weddings," Paul warns Jamie after an invite snafu. "Trust me, it gets so much worse than this!" —Christopher Wallenberg

Daytime Pick

Everything should be hearts and flowers for this week's lavish wedding between stoic private investigator turned bar owner Curtis Ashford and Dr. Portia Robinson (Donnell Turner and Brook Kerr, right). But secrets and lies could ruin everything.

The secret? News that Curtis could truly be the father of Portia's teenage daughter, Trina (Tabyana Ali), the result of a long-ago affair he and Portia had when she was married to Marcus Taggart (Réal Andrews). Trina's recent genealogy test brought these parentage issues to light.

And that's when the lies begin: Curtis' aunt Stella (Vernee Watson-Johnson), ex-wife Jordan (Tanisha Harper) and, yes, also Portia know this information and have chosen to withhold it. Does he get suspicious? "Odd behaviors aren't lost on Curtis," Turner says, "but he chalks it up to everything that's happening [with the wedding]."

If the groom does find out, the repercussions could be catastrophic. "Curtis stands on honesty, and he's willing to cut ties due to the lack of that very thing," Turner explains. "You just wonder how this is all going to go down if he finds out. Will there be a wedding?" —Jim Halterman

★★½☆ 8/7c, MGM+

An academic named Alithea (Tilda Swinton), at a conference in Istanbul, buys an exotic bottle and poof! out comes a djinn (Idris Elba, above, with Swinton) in a puff of smoke, ready to grant three wishes so he can be freed forever. Alithea is not the wishing kind, so the djinn regales her with tales of his centuries of longings and lovings. The 2022 film is beautiful at times, overstuffed at others, but a joy for fans of One Thousand and One Nights–type tales and the visuals of filmmaker George Miller (Mad Max: Fury Road). —Robert Edelstein

The 12th Victim

SERIES PREMIERE

8/7c, Showtime

Fresh eyes on Charles Starkweather and Caril Ann Fugate, the lovestruck teens notorious in 1958 for 11 brutal Midwest murders: This docuseries asks whether the 14-year-old girl was bloodthirsty or coerced.

The Company You Keep

SERIES PREMIERE 10/9c, ABC

MATT'S PICK

On some shows, the truth can set you free. Not so much on the slick, sexy The Company You Keep, which could just as easily be titled The Secrets They Keep.

This enjoyable caper revels in deception, starting with its dazzling heroes: suave con artist Charlie (Milo Ventimiglia, a world removed from the earnest dad of This Is Us) and glam CIA agent Emma (Catherine Haena Kim, above, with Ventimiglia), who meet cute at a bar while nursing heartache. "Relationships—what a racket," Emma muses. Adds Charlie: "A shell game to conceal who you really are."

If they only knew. But what they can't deny is their chemistry. Charlie and Emma are romantics in a cruel world, and there's plenty of suspense as their paths keep crossing, once Charlie's crime family (featuring scene-stealers William Fichtner, Polly Draper and Sarah Wayne Callies) runs afoul of a deadly syndicate Emma is investigating.

How long can this affair last before Emma realizes it took a thief to steal her heart? Hard to say. For now, they're great company. —Matt Roush

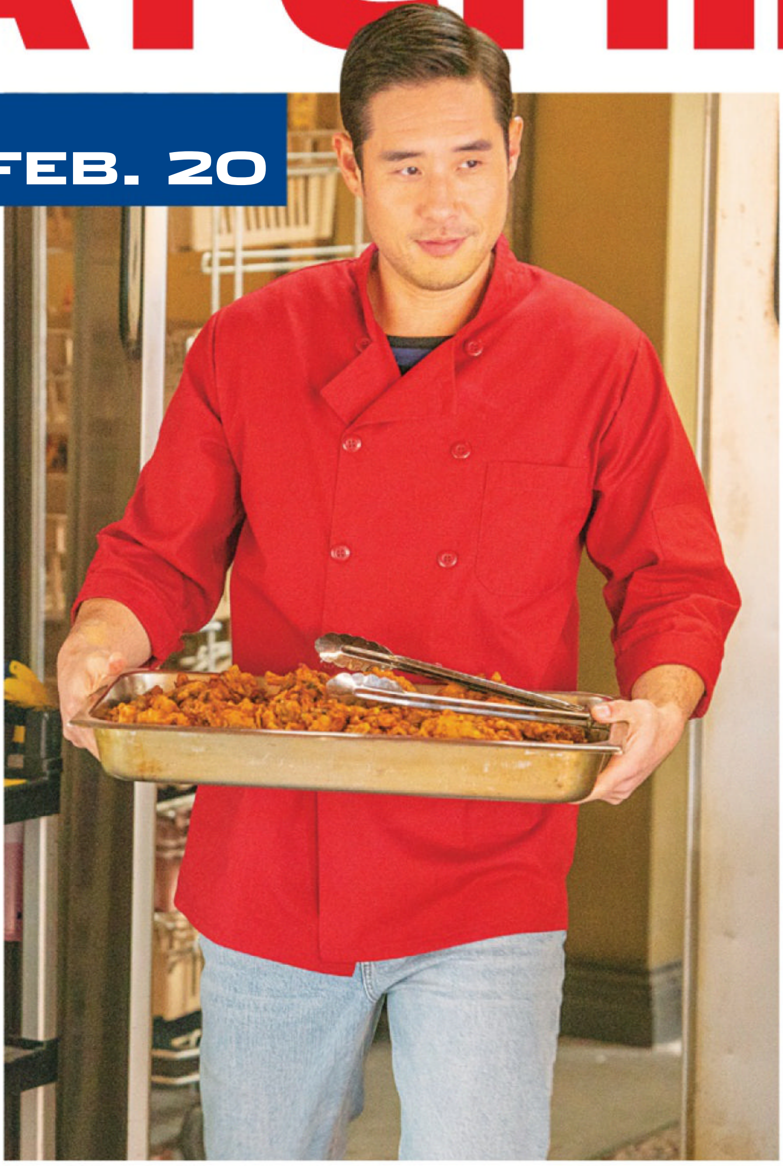
Austin Powers: The Spy Who Shagged Me



Quantum Leap

10/9c, NBC

Ben Song (Raymond Lee, left) has been leaping into strangers' bodies since the sci-fi revival launched in September. This week, his adventures hit close to home when the good doctor jumps into Kamini, the eldest adult daughter of Indian immigrants, in 2009 Portland, Oregon. Song is struck by the parallels to his own Asian American family, and "we finally get to see pockets of emotion that perhaps Ben has buried or forgotten," reveals Lee. "We may even find moments of closure." A perk of the moving episode? "You're going to really want Indian food after," the actor advises with a laugh. "Have DoorDash on speed dial!" —Jim Halterman

Gaslit

4/3c, Starz Cinema

Daytime Pick

Disgraced prez Richard Nixon wouldn't be our first choice to salute on Presidents' Day, but Sean Penn's and Julia Roberts' performances are worth celebrating.

Jeopardy!

Syndicated, check local listings

Class is back in session for the 27 former Teen Tournament players grabbing their buzzers again for this three-week High School reunion showdown. At stake: $100K and a spot in this year's Tournament of Champions.

Ruthless: Monopoly's Secret History

9/8c, PBS (check local listings at pbs.org)

Scandal in Marvin Gardens! This American Experience installment blows the top hat off the board game's origins. Monopoly was not first sketched out by an enterprising Charles Darrow on a tablecloth—it has a dramatic backstory of corporate maneuvering and out-and-out theft.

EAT YOUR HEART OUT

Secrets of Spain

10/9c, Cooking Channel

Soak up Andalusia's food scene and phenomenal scenery with natives of the region: Chef Gioconda Scott and her safari-leading brother George team up for a culinary tour of this gorgeous coastal region.

TOP: RON BATZDORFF/NBC. BOTTOM: NEW LINE/COURTESY EVERETT COLLECTION

The Rookie

8/7c, ABC

Stop in the name of love! After four seasons of flirting, the LAPD's most arresting new couple has finally paired up. "They're quite a force to be reckoned with," Eric Winter (above right) says of the #Chenford fandom that has championed the love match of his stern Sgt. Tim Bradford and Melissa O'Neil's (above left) more emotional cop Lucy Chen since he was assigned to be her training officer.

Still, it's not "all cotton candy and rainbows" now that the two are together, Winter says. Case in point: Their first Valentine's Day. "It's not an easy one," he previews of the episode, postponed from February 14 by the State of the Union. Any hope of a perfect romantic day is put on hold when Tim discovers early on that Lucy did something behind his back, which, for rule stickler Tim, "ruffles his feathers quite a bit"—so much so that the tension between them threatens to derail their plans.

Things are just as tricky for the precinct's other lovebirds. Expect issues to arise for seasoned officer Nolan (Nathan Fillion) and firefighter Bailey (Jenna Dewan) as well, though Winter hints things will resolve in the classic comedy-infused Rookie way. "It's not what you'd expect," he teases of the outcome. Hey, no one ever said love was easy! —Damian Holbrook

Night Court

8/7c, NBC

All judge Abby Stone (Melissa Rauch) wants is to meet her idols, Olympic ice skating legends Johnny Weir and Tara Lipinski. But antsy defense attorney Dan Fielding (John Larroquette) would rather stick to his dinner reservation than delay court proceedings for his colleague's sake.

Accused

9/8c, Fox

Emmy winner Billy Porter (Pose) directs this emotional story about Kevin (J. Harrison Ghee), a shy teacher who moonlights as a fierce drag queen named Robyn Banks and pays the price when he falls hard for the wrong guy—a volatile, closeted married man (Chris Coy).

Bewitched

2:30am/1:30c, FETV

Retro Pick

Samantha (Elizabeth Montgomery) runs into mortal trouble when she magically transports herself to Paris with her mom (Agnes Moorehead) and gets stuck there after running into Darrin's (Dick York) boss.

The Nate & Jeremiah Home Project

SEASON PREMIERE 9/8c, HGTV

Married interior designers Jeremiah Brent and Nate Berkus (below) get that home is where the heart is. Season 2 of their reno show kicks off with a sweet labor of love for a Long Island couple who have filled a tiny Cape Cod with four kids and many memories. Knowing "who they are as people," Berkus says, comes first in any project. Touched by the family's bond and sensitive to their tight budget, the guys get crafty working to fit in their clients' treasured items while also doubling their square footage. How? The answer is literally under their feet. —Damian Holbrook

The X-Files

1/noon c, Comet

Retro Pick

In "Clyde Bruckman's Final Repose," a fan-fave episode, Peter Boyle plays an insurance salesman who sees people's ultimate fates. His abilities help Mulder (David Duchovny) and Scully (Gillian Anderson) find a killer targeting psychics.

Tough as Nails

SEASON FINALE

9/8c, CBS

In the two-hour conclusion, Savage Crew and Dirty Hands face off once more before the remaining finalists start demolishing, lugging and stacking in efforts to climb over shipping containers. Winner gets a Ford Super Duty (and $200K)!

Snowfall

SEASON PREMIERE

10/9c and 11/10c, FX

The drug drama's final season opens with kingpin Franklin (Damson Idris) out of cash and aiming to right his empire, as Aunt Louie (Angela Lewis) tries to compete and the DEA, CIA and KGB try to take him down!

Party Down

SEASON PREMIERE 9/8c, Starz

Are we having fun yet? The cult-fave comedy about an L.A. catering team is back for Season 3—only 13 years after the last event! Staffers have moved on: Constance (Jane Lynch) is a playwright; Kyle (Ryan Hansen) plays a Hollywood superhero; Henry (Adam Scott) teaches school. As toxic optimist Ron (Ken Marino) plots to keep his hors d'oeuvres–slinging fleet afloat, the gang is magically reunited and producer Evie (Jennifer Garner, above, with Scott) brings biz-saving ideas to the chaos. Abbott Elementary's Quinta Brunson drops in. Party hearty, people! —Damian Holbrook

Newlywed Nightmare

MOVIE PREMIERE

8/7c, Lifetime

A just-married couple, Lauren (Sarah Borne) and David (Yoshi Sudarso), take a honeymoon that turns perilous when the bride is kidnapped and forced into dirty-money deeds. Can her hubby and a PI (Catherine Dyer) find her fast enough?

The Magic of Spirituals

9/8c, PBS (check local listings at pbs.org)

This Great Performances gem joins opera icons Jessye Norman and Kathleen Battle at Carnegie Hall for a 1990 set of spirituals—songs sung by slaves, "Oh, Glory," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" and more. Soprano Angel Blue calls it music of "hope, joy and life."

Malcolm X

Gunsmoke

Noon/11am c, Decades

Retro Pick

John Wayne introduced the longest-running Western series' first episode on September 10, 1955; his bit begins this massive marathon reliving Gunsmoke's start. James Arness (below) played Marshal Matt Dillon for 20-plus years with stalwart consistency. (William Conrad had the radio role.) The shoot-outs are memorable, but it's Dillon standing his ground that resonates. "You won't hold me in jail," a killer tells him. "Let's go find out," Matt replies. The early episodes feature familiar guest stars (Claude Akins, John Carradine, Charles Bronson) plus Amanda Blake's red-haired saloon gal Miss Kitty. Fun fact: "Hack Prine" (12:30am/11:30c) was the actual pilot, though not the first episode to air. An observant viewer will notice the sets are different, but the show's heart was already there. —Robert Edelstein

Cold Justice

8/7c, Oxygen

The 1992 murder of Natasha Atchley—a 19-year-old whose remains were found in her burned-out Camaro's trunk—draws fierce prosecutor Kelly Siegler to San Jacinto County, Texas. Empathetic and dogged, she's chased answers in this cold case for three decades.

12 Desperate Hours

MOVIE PREMIERE

8/7c, Lifetime

Based on an Ann Rule true-crime story, this film, directed by Gina Gershon, was shot in 15 days. Val (Samantha Mathis, Billions), held hostage with the kids, must outwit the captor before Daddy gets home. That's a mental load!

Made for Each Other

MOVIE PREMIERE

8/7c, Hallmark Channel

There's no such thing as the perfect man...or is there? Sculptor Rachel (Alexandra Turshen) casts her ideal match, Clay (Aaron O'Connell), into magical reality—only to then fall for her flawed real-life pal David (Matt Cohen).

SPOTLIGHT: BLACK ARTISTS

54th Annual NAACP Image Awards

8/7c, BET

Since 1967, these accolades have recognized artists and activists of color. Tonight's ceremony honors standouts in film, TV and streaming, music, podcasts and literature. Entertainer of the Year hopefuls are Angela Bassett, Mary J. Blige, Viola Davis, Zendaya and Quinta Brunson (whose Abbott Elementary got nine TV noms!).

The Blacklist

SEASON PREMIERE 10/9c, NBC

When Season 10 of NBC's venerable spy drama returns, Raymond Reddington (James Spader) has gone missing and the FBI's Special Task Force is down by two other agents. (Amir Arison's and Laura Sohn's characters exited in last season's finale.) Who will fill the gap?

Enter Siya Malik (Anya Banerjee, above), an operative with Britain's MI6 and the daughter of CIA agent Meera Malik (Parminder Nagra, inset), who was murdered in Season 1.

"Siya is quick-witted, funny and skilled," says Banerjee, a New Zealand native. "Like [Meera], she's good at detecting people's motives. She also has a personal agenda: finding out what happened to her mother."

The newcomer joins the force at a dangerous time, with escaped terrorist Wujing (Chin Han), an early Blacklister taken down by Reddington, rallying other burned cohorts to wreak revenge on the international crime boss turned secret FBI informant who may finally face exposure. "We'll see some familiar faces," Banerjee teases.

The game's on when Reddington resurfaces, leading operatives to a larger conspiracy and a meet-and-greet with Siya. Our advice for the team: Don't underestimate her. —Ileane Rudolph

Criminal Minds

4/3c, WE tv

Daytime Pick

We're still chilled by Star Wars icon Mark Hamill's icy arc as a FBI agent turned copycat killer, which wrapped with 2013's Season 8 finale. Darth Vader'd be proud.

Anne Rice's Mayfair Witches

SEASON FINALE

9/8c, AMC

This lush adaptation closes its first season with powerful New Orleans witch Rowan (Alexandra Daddario) realizing why she is so valuable to the shape-shifting Lasher (Jack Huston). It's not great news.

Royal Rendezvous

MOVIE PREMIERE

9/8c, E!

One Day at a Time's Isabella Gomez leads this rom-com as an East L.A. chef who gets to cook at a manor house in Ireland (where the film was shot). On the menu: handsome distractions (Ruairi O'Connor and Ronan Raftery), a chance the home could be sold—and love.

NCIS: Los Angeles

10/9c, CBS

It's an '80s flashback! Kilbride (Simon & Simon alum Gerald McRaney) gets a visit from his ex (Taxi's Marilu Henner), who wants the curmudgeon to reconnect with their son. Meanwhile, the team tries to prevent disaster after a woman attacks an A.I. bigwig.

The Invention of the Year

The world’s most fun-to-drive and portable mobility device

Once in a lifetime, a product comes along that truly moves people. Introducing the future of battery-powered personal transportation . . . The Zinger.

Available in Green, Black and Blue (shown)

Throughout the ages, there have been many important advances in mobility. Canes, walkers, rollators, and scooters were created to help people with mobility issues get around and retain their independence. Lately, however, there haven’t been any new improvements to these existing products or developments in this field. Until now. Recently, an innovative design engineer who’s developed one of the world’s most popular products created a completely new breakthrough . . . a personal electric vehicle. It’s called the Zinger, and there is nothing out there quite like it.

> “What my wife especially loves is it gives her back feelings of safety and independence which has given a real boost to her confidence and happiness! Thank You!”
> –Kent C., California

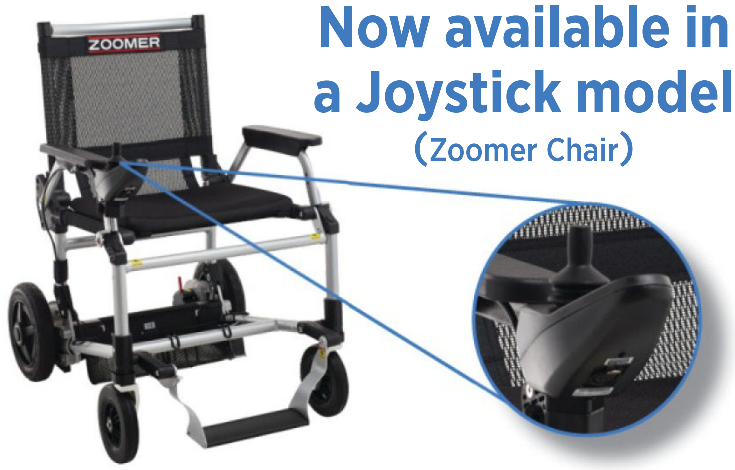
The first thing you’ll notice about the Zinger is its unique look. It doesn’t look like a scooter. Its sleek, lightweight yet durable frame is made with aircraft grade aluminum so it weighs only 47.2 lbs. It features one-touch folding and unfolding – when folded it can be wheeled around like a suitcase and fits easily into a backseat or trunk. Then, there are the steering levers. They enable the Zinger to move forward, backward, turn on a dime and even pull right up to a table or desk. With its compact yet powerful motor it can go up to 6 miles an hour and its rechargeable battery can go up to 8 miles on a single charge. With its low center of gravity and inflatable tires it can handle rugged terrain and is virtually tip-proof. Think about it, you can take your Zinger almost anywhere, so you don’t have to let mobility issues rule your life.

The Zinger folds to a mere 10 inches.

Now available in a Joystick model

(Zoomer Chair)



Joystick can be mounted on the right or left side for rider’s comfort

Why take our word for it? Call now, and find out how you can get a Zinger of your very own.

CHEERS & JEERS

BY DAMIAN HOLBROOK

@damianholbrook

Cheers to The Last of Us for being our first obsession of 2023. Despite offing the terrific Anna Torv too early, HBO's must-see adaptation, starring Pedro Pascal, of the horror video game injects new life into the zombie-apocalypse genre. It also scores huge points for scaring us half to death.

Cheers to Poker Face's Natasha Lyonne (left) for playing to her strengths. Blessed with gravely good-humored appeal, like comic curmudgeon Peter Falk, the Russian Doll star is aces as her generation's Columbo in Peacock's crafty-quirky murder-of-the-week dramedy.

Cheers to American Auto for returning fully loaded. Driven by the deadpan-perfect Ana Gasteyer as a failing car company's clueless CEO, Season 2 of NBC's free-wheeling workplace sitcom has us roaring with laughter and revved up by the steadily improving state of network comedies.

Cheers to Walker Independence's wild ride. As colorful as Yellowstone and cheekier than a saloon dancer, The CW's frontier-set Walker prequel (with Matt Barr, below) deserves a Season 2!

Jeers to NCIS for not recruiting Zane Holtz for a full-time position. Is it just us or does a Butch-and-Sundance vibe radiate when the Katy Keene alum shows up as undercover agent Dale Sawyer? His sparring, then partnering, with Torres (Wilmer Valderrama, above right, with Holtz) feels spot-on. CBS: Get this guy on contract.

Jeers to TMI. Too Many Interviews, Prince Harry. We get it; your family is messy.

Jeers to Teen Wolf: The Movie for that death. We won't tell you who it was (not Tyler Posey, above!), in case you haven't yet had the chance to catch the Paramount+ feature-length revival of MTV's beloved thriller. Just know that we were heartbroken to watch as one of our now-grown heroes headed off to that great full moon in the sky.

Jeers to Peacock for selling The Traitors down the river. Every episode of the tremendously fun Alan Cumming–hosted competition, which saw reality stars trying to suss out their shady teammates, dropped on the same day. The winner—and any reason to catch up on the show—was spoiled online within hours.
